Brighter Future for Romulus Kids

by Dave Atkins

It was called a miracle by many school districts and heads of state when the school bond proposals were passed in Romulus. The margin of victory was not a large one, but it was a victory nonetheless.

Many people took part in working to get the bond proposal passed — too many to even think about naming in a newspaper article — but the largest share of the credit for the passage goes to the parents and the senior citizens. It was, literally, the seniors' vote that could have made or broken the proposal and, from what I understand, this was one time that the seniors helped put a school issue over the top.

It took many months of hard work by all who were involved, and many late-night meetings with parents and others who were concerned with the future of our kids.

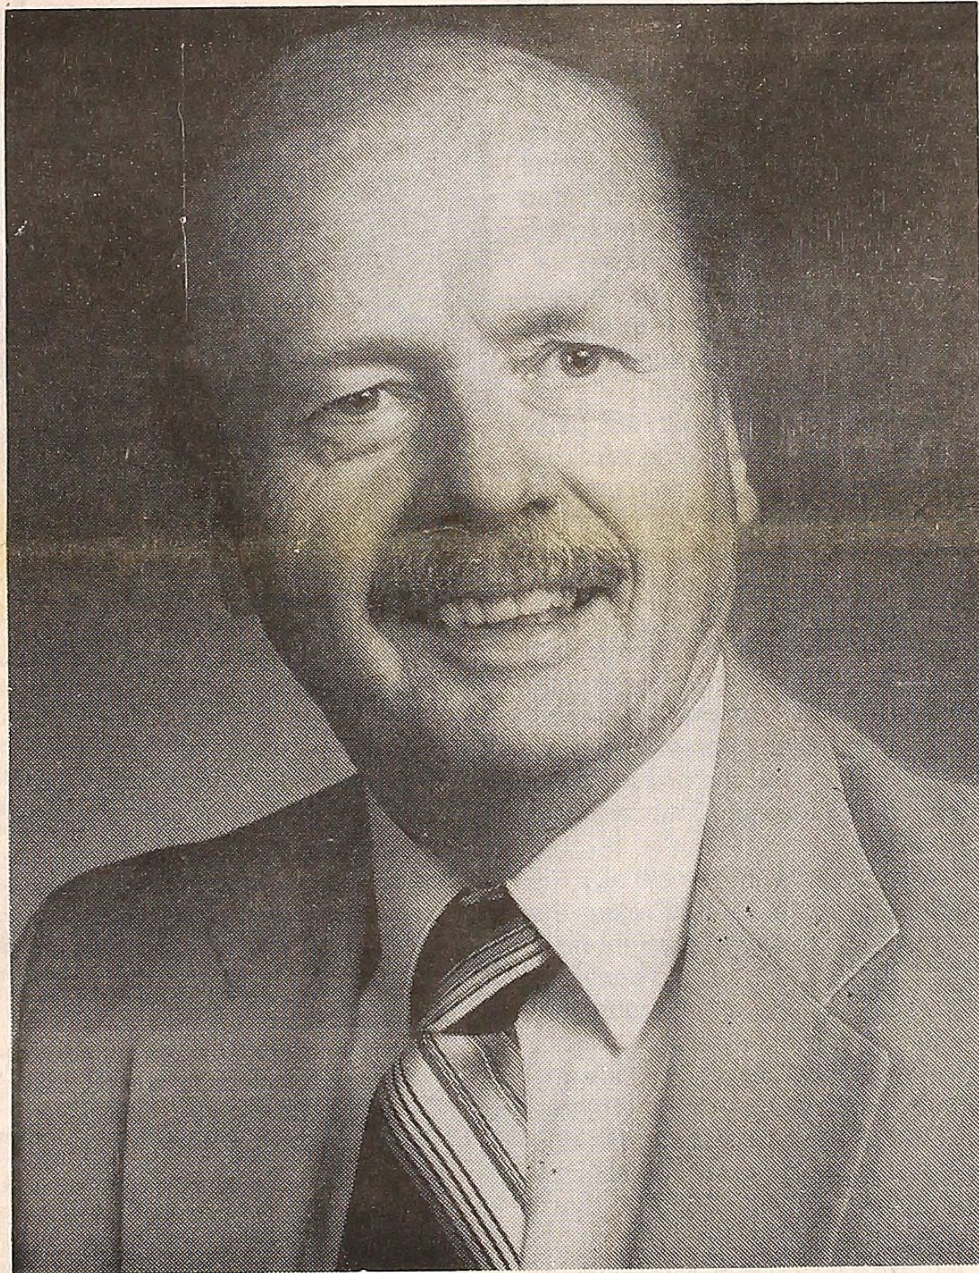

There is no one thing, no one person, no one piece of magic that can take all the credit for this proposal's passage.

It was accomplished by the efforts of a team — a team consisting of parents, members of the School Board and the administration, teachers, and many kids who asked their parents and community to vote "yes" for their future.

This proposal is going to make it hard on the Mayor, Beverly McAnally, and all future mayors for several years to come. The reason is that a significant amount of new business will need to be brought into the City (especially in the first few years) to increase the tax base of the City/School District in order to repay the bonds. Increases in residential building will also be necessary.

In an interview with Joel Carr, Assistant Superintendent for Finance and Operations for the Romulus School District, he said, "We are heading into a new era now that the bond issue has passed, and we must take our time. This issue does not give us an open checkbook to do with as we please. What all this means is: We are new in the technology business, and we must watch very carefully what we do and how we spend this money."

Carr indicated that the District most likely will hire consultants at a reasonable price to determine exactly what type of equipment to buy.

"It's unbelievable! People ... can't possibly realize what they have done for the future of their kids."

Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, assured everyone on election night that the money raised from the bonds will not be spent on teachers' wages; the money must be spent on exactly what it was intended for, and that is high technology for learning.

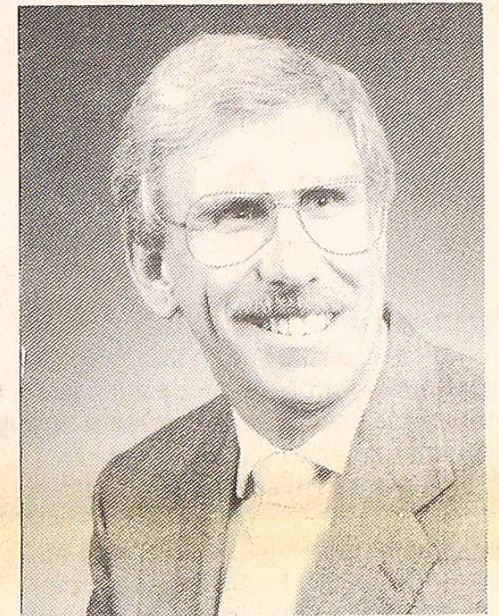

Said Bedell, "It's unbelievable! The people of this community can't possibly realize what they have done for the future of their kids. They have increased their chances of graduating, not only from high school, but college also.

"In today's times," he continued, "the passage of a bond issue like this is absolutely unheard of, but the people of this community have spoken! They really are interested in their kids' future and that is as it should be."

Between the passage of the operating millage and the first bond issue, and in conjunction with the School District being out-of-formula, the children of this school district will be watched very closely by other districts to see just how favorably the high-technology instruction will compare with the usual methods of teaching and learning.

This city made big news on November 6; it fired a shot that will be heard all around this United States before it is all over and, if you ask anyone concerned, it was a shot that will hit the bull's-eye. □

The Editor's Opinion

What's Good for the Goose?

by Dave Atkins

There is an old saying that, "What's good for the goose is good for the gander." Evidently, however, that is not true when it comes to our city council.

Everyone in this city knows that the last thing in the world we need in Romulus is another topless bar, and I applaud the Council for making an attempt to keep them out, regardless of how feeble that attempt may be.

To what am I referring? Recently, the Wings and Wheels bar on Middle Belt, along with PJ's Lounge on Wayne Road, applied for an entertainment license. Initially, both applications were tabled and then brought back for the Council to reconsider after obtaining a city attorney's opinion. The attorney opinion stated that you cannot restrict an entertainment license. If it is issued, the owners of the bar can do just about anything they want to do including, but not limited to, comedy acts, mud wrestling, topless dancers, male dancers, and the list goes on and on.

Now, it is bad enough to have an entertainment license, but it is even worse if a dance permit is issued along with it. That means that, if a bar wants to allow it, they can have topless dancing on stage and dancing on the dance floor at the same time.

Back in September, there was a request to transfer a license to the new owners at Terry's Lounge.

When Linda Choate, Romulus City Clerk, read the request, it stated that the Council could issue a dance permit or an entertainment license or both, or it could deny either one or both. Remember, this was before either Wings and Wheels or PJ's had appeared before the Council.

There was hardly a breath between Choate's reading of the request and Councilman Lambert's motion to give Terry's Lounge not just one license, but both of them.

Mayor Pro Tem Randy Gear and Councilman Pete Bergeron both voted against the passage; however, the majority rules, and now Terry's has both permits.

Back to the issue at hand. Now comes the owner of Wings and Wheels (formerly known as the Middlebelt Bar), asking for an entertainment permit so that he can legally have lingerie shows to increase his business. The man stated that he would sign any kind of agreement necessary to guarantee that he would not have topless dancing or any "skin" shows. He was denied.

The owner of PJ's came before the City Council, asking for a permit for entertainment so that he could stay in business and open a "comedy club" (much like the Roxy on Haggerty Road). He, too, was turned down.

In both instances, Romulus Police Chief Fred Dansby requested the denial of both licenses. He also requested the denial of the dance license for Terry's Lounge. It, however, was passed.

There has never been a real reason for Wings and Wheels not to get the entertainment permit (at least, not one that has been made public).

Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry voted "no" on PJ's request because the club still uses a septic tank, and the Building Department says that Al Ahker, the owner of PJ's, has not fully complied with the City's requests (such as property beautification, etc.).

Now, it would seem to me that, this being a free country, a man or woman should be allowed to promote new business so that he/she can stay in business, providing that the promotion of the business does not interfere with the law.

It would also seem to me that, if the City Councilmembers had taken the time to do what I did, they might have found a very good reason to deny any license to Terry's Lounge, regardless of what the license was for.

When I asked Dansby to show me the police activity reports for all three bars (Terry's Lounge, PJ's, and Wings and Wheels) for the last two years, he provided me with the material that I requested.

If I have read those reports correctly, it appears that Terry's Lounge had more than six times the police activity of either of the other two bars.

Gives you something to think about, doesn't it?

The reports that I have seen indicate that over 300 reports were made about Terry's Lounge, while 50 or less were made about each of the other two.

How is this fair? How is this good judgment?

As I said earlier in this editorial, the last thing that I want in Romulus is another topless bar or male-dancers bar or mud-wrestling bar or anything else of the sort. But, as far as I am concerned, the Council's actions in this instance are a direct slap in the face to the small-businessman.

It is all right to deny an entertainment license to PJ's Lounge and Wings and Wheels, but why was the request of Terry's Lounge approved almost immediately upon request?

Maybe you should really get into watching more Council meetings on cable television. It sure will direct you on how to vote in the next election. □

Games Reward Halecreek Kids

by Joann Bjork

Cries of "BINGO!" resounded at the October Positive Discipline Program assembly recently held at Halecreek Elementary. The purpose of the assembly, which was organized by the Positive Discipline Team, was to reward those Halecreek students who demonstrated their ability to make good choices concerning behavior, work habits, and responsibility in the month of October.

The Halecreek students were invited down to the cafeteria in two different groups, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. As each student got a BINGO, a volunteer checked his/her card, announced a good BINGO, and (to thunderous applause) told the student to pick up his/her prize. During a break halfway through the games, all the students were treated to two packages of Now and Later candies to help keep their whistles wet for that next BINGO! Before the games were over (and, as good fortune would have it), every student in attendance got at least one BINGO!

The organizers of this event would like to thank the Halecreek staff for all the support and help, and Pat Carter, Cindy DeRosa, Chanel Farley, Cheryl Farr, Michelle Fisher, Glenna Fuhrman, Kim French, Sue Gentry, Susan Hartz, Jan Green, Claudia Herauf, and Molly McGlynn for volunteering their time and thereby making this assembly such a big success. They would also like to thank the PTG for the donation of treats and prizes for the games. Thanks again to everyone! □

McAnally Visits Wick School

Wick Elementary had a special visitor on Thursday, November 8, when Mayor Beverly McAnally was the honored guest of the third-grade students of Mrs. Albus and Mrs. Motyka.

As part of their study of local community government and the election process in social studies, the students invited McAnally to speak to them.

McAnally addressed the students about elections, her past government history, and citizen responsibility. She also explained how she chose various department heads in Romulus. The children were invited to participate in a question-and-answer period. This was followed by a punch-and-cookie reception in the cafetorium.

The students presented McAnally with a corsage in appreciation of her visit. □

McAnally receives a welcome corsage from Alex Russel & Jennifer Hoffman.

Student Report

Wick Elementary's second and third graders have been studying mammals.

The third graders made a report on their mammals and also did a drawing. The second graders had drawings and reported orally to the class. □

Robert Brimble: To Know Him Was To Love Him

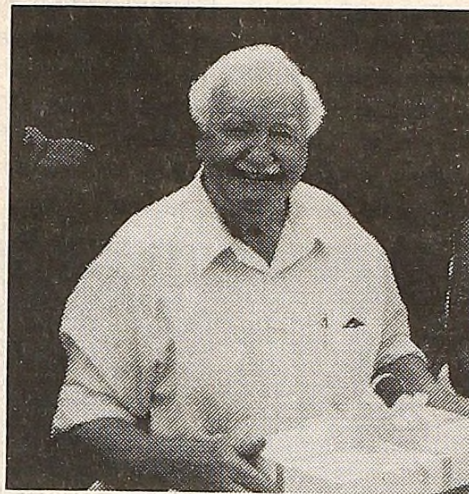

by Gail McCormack

You've heard the saying, "To know him is to love him." Well, that was the case for everyone who had the privilege of meeting Robert Brimble.

Bob, as his friends called him, was the father of John Brimble, owner of Captain Nemo's. Chances are, if you've gone to Captain Nemo's for lunch, you've met the friendly, gray-haired gentleman from New Zealand. After his retirement, Bob spent his summers here, visiting John (he was here most every summer since 1975), and his winters back home in Auckland, tending his beloved garden. He was a very intelligent man, and could talk to anyone about anything.

Bob, who celebrated his eightieth birthday this past spring, died November 6, 1990, from complications resulting from a car accident. He touched the lives of many of us, and will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Our deepest sympathy to John and his family here and back home in New Zealand. □

Marvin C. Stabenow

Marvin C. Stabenow of Romulus died on November 6, 1990, at the age of 68.

Marvin was the beloved husband of Geraldine Stabenow, and the dear brother of Geraldine Irwin.

Funeral services were held on November 8 at Lents Funeral Home (34567 Michigan Avenue, Wayne) with Pastor Thomas Bruscha officiating. Interment was at Cadillac West.

Jason A. Voight

Canton resident, Jason A. Voight, died November 1, 1990. He was 23 years old.

Jason, the dear father of Sarah N. Voight, was the son of Donald A. and Jean H. (Zwalesky) Voight, the brother of Elaine M. Voight, and the close companion of Shelly F. Drewno.

Funeral services were held November 5 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church with Father Ferdinand A. Wilbur officiating. St. Hedwig Catholic Cemetery was the burial site. □

New Laws Designed To Upgrade Rural Hospitals

A series of new laws will help rural hospitals upgrade their services by allowing them to qualify more frequently as primary-care facilities and receive additional Federal funds and Medicaid reimbursements. The laws will give small hospitals more options in meeting community needs. They also authorize a study of Michigan's hospitals, which will serve as the basis for the development of a package of legislation aimed at urban hospitals.

New Law Protects Adult Foster-care Residents

A new State law imposes criminal penalties on adult foster-care facility operators who remain in operation after losing their license. A former operator who has had a license revoked, suspended, or not renewed, and who continues to receive adults in need of foster care, will be charged with a misdemeanor. Under the measure, when a foster-care facility loses its license, the State Department of Social Services would be required to offer the facility's residents relocation services.

Laws Ban the Burning and Dumping of Yard Clippings

Yard clippings will be barred from landfills and municipal incinerators by 1994 under two new laws. The laws are designed to encourage municipalities to develop composting programs. The State Department of Natural Resources estimates up to 12% of the waste buried in Michigan landfills each year consists of biodegradable yard clippings. A companion law bans the open burning of yard clippings. Burning of leaves and yard clippings has been judged to cause as much toxic air pollution as some industrial facilities.

Legislation Would Regulate Off-road Vehicle Use

A bill being considered by the House would restrict off-road vehicle (ORV) use to State forest land that is posted as "open." The bill provides penalties, including confiscation of vehicles in the cases of flagrant violations, for riders who travel on "closed" areas and roads on State land. The legislation also provides increased funding for law enforcement and for trail development and maintenance. The State Department of Natural Resources estimates that more than 600,000 acres of State land have been damaged by ORV use.

New Legal Hotline for Seniors

A new toll-free hotline designed to take calls from senior citizens with legal questions has opened in Michigan. The hotline will be staffed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, by specially trained lawyers. Organizers say about 80% of the callers' legal questions can be resolved immediately over the phone. Senior citizens can reach the hotline by calling 1-800-347-LAWS.

Point of Law

by Murray A. Duncan, Jr., Attorney

A first offender's conviction for OUIL (operating under the influence of liquor) results in a mandatory suspension of driving privileges. OUIL requires a suspension of six months to two years, and OVI (operating a vehicle while impaired) requires a suspension of three months to one year. Restricted driving privileges are available in each case at the judge's discretion.

In some jurisdictions, it may be possible to obtain a plea to attempted OUIL. This charge carries two points and no mandatory license suspension. Reckless driving is a six-point violation with no mandatory license suspension. Careless driving is a three-point violation with no license suspension.

The court can order that any restricted license privileges be coupled with the defendant having his/her automobile equipped with an ignition interlock device. This device must be set to render the vehicle inoperable if the device detects .02% or more of alcohol in the blood of the person offering the breath sample. The court may order the installation of the interlock device on any motor vehicle that the defendant operates, with costs paid by the defendant.

There are criminal penalties for tampering with the interlock device. The person with the restricted license cannot ask another person to blow into it. A label warning against tampering with the device must be attached to the interlock system.

If you have a legal question that you would like answered, you may send your question to my office and I will attempt to address it in a future issue. Questions should be mailed to: Murray A. Duncan, Jr., 10000 South Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174. □ pay the program fee. To apply for the scholarship, a parent must come to the Recreation office and complete a scholarship form. The information provided is confidential.) Students can register for the program on their first day of attendance. Permission slips are available in each school's office.

From the A.D.

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Athletic Director

Just a short note thanking all of the people who worked so hard and took the time to obtain correct information on the successful bond proposal.

No doubt, five years from now, when this project is completed and all the bugs are worked out, Romulus will be a place that all will be proud to live in and be from.

The light at the end of the tunnel just became very bright, and all who can see that light are extremely excited about the future of our schools and athletic programs.

To the coaches, parents, and athletes who supported our efforts in this endeavor... thank you very much! Your efforts and those of this tremendous community will be rewarded soon with programs and facilities that will be unequalled in this area.

The backbone of a community is its schools and its youth. Both were rewarded with positive support from parents and neighbors. Speaking for the Athletic Department, I plan to see that the support shown by the people of Romulus on November 6 will not go unappreciated. We will develop facilities and programs that will make this community proud! Guaranteed!

Thanks again! □

A Haunting Halloween at Halecreek Elementary

by Joann Bjork

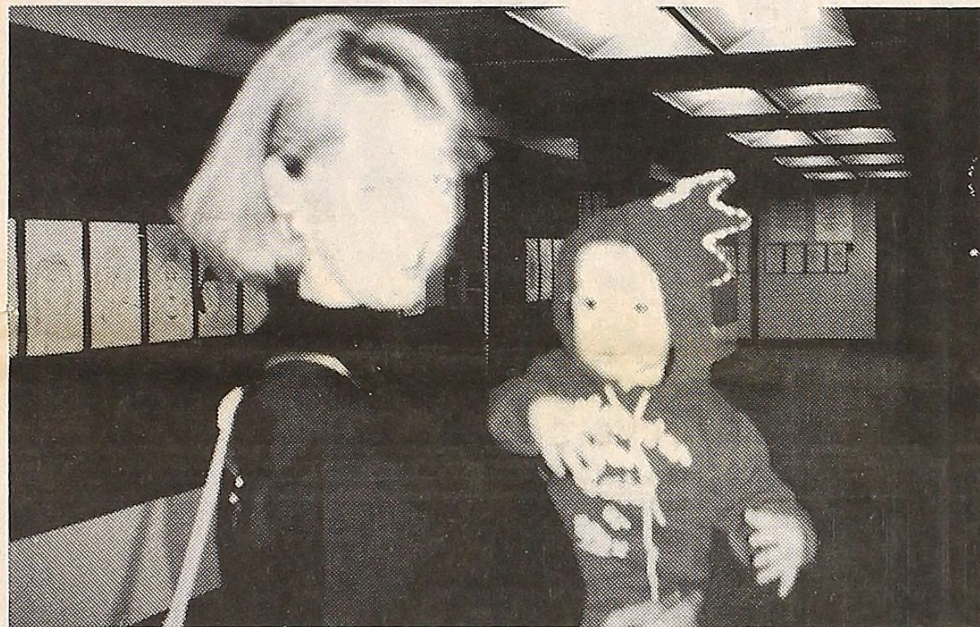

BOO! Did I scare you? There was a lot of scaring going on at Halecreek's Haunted Halls this past Halloween, thanks to all the efforts of organizers Penny Sanchez, Jan Green, Joann Bjork, Pat Carter, and all the parents who volunteered to make Halecreek's Fifth Annual Haunted Halls a huge success!

Admission was by ticket only. Greeting the over 350 trick-or-treaters who came that night was none other than Lynne Mossoian, Halecreek principal and, that night, the first of many witches in attendance. Before entering the main halls, everyone got a chance to talk to Beetlejuice and Frankenstein.

Once inside the Haunted Halls, the trick-or-treaters and their parents went from room to room, asking for treats. All of the 18 classrooms had a monster or other character there to give out the goodies. The 5-6 cluster of rooms had a sign, "Enter at Your Own Risk," and the reason for that sign became clear as one went past a huge spider web, a talking head, a ghost, Jason, and some of the scariest monsters who ever gave out candy! From this area, the crowd went to two more areas for treats, and then into the cafeteria for a chance to catch their breath, rest their heart, and have a hot dog, cookie, and drink (all donated by the Romulus Recreation Department).

The entire night wouldn't have been such a success without the Romulus Recreation Department's donation and the help of the parents and other volunteers. From the Babysitting Room (for the workers' children) to the Cafeteria workers, from the first person encountered at the front door to the last, we thank you all! □

Ernie Harwell To Visit Romulus

The folks at the Community United Methodist Church are inviting everyone to come and hear Ernie Harwell, the "Voice of Tiger Baseball," speak on Thursday, November 29, at 7 p.m.

Ernie Harwell's name forever will be linked with the all-time baseball greats. He was the fifth recipient of the Ford C. Frick Award and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York, in August, 1981.

Ernie, who has been behind the microphone for the Detroit Tigers since 1960, is one of the real veterans of baseball broadcasting.

Recently (1985), Sports Illustrated selected Harwell as the radio voice for its all-time dream baseball team.

His radio-television career dates back to 1940, and he has been on the major-league scene as a broadcaster since 1948. His service with the Tigers followed six seasons with the Baltimore Orioles, four with the New York Giants, and nearly two more with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Born in Washington, Georgia, on January 25, 1918, Ernie went to work at the age of 16 as the Atlanta correspondent for The Sporting News, and later served in the sports department of the Atlanta Constitution. When he was 22, he originated a nightly sports news broadcast for Radio Station WSB, Atlanta — his first regular experience on the air.

Ernie's reward for success in Atlanta was appointment as play-by-play broadcaster for the Dodgers during the 1948 season. Two years later, he moved to the Giants, then to the Orioles, before coming to Detroit.

One of Harwell's biggest thrills as an announcer was Bobby Thompson's play-off homer in 1951. He was doing the first coast-to-coast telecast of a major sporting event with that game.

Harwell has broadcast three World Series and two All-Star Games; he aired the first American League Championship Series in 1969; and has been the voice of CBS Radio on many of its ALCS broadcasts since the network started their broadcasts in 1976.

Ernie's early interest in writing has been maintained with frequent contributions to The Sporting News, Saturday Evening Post, Esquire, Parade, and Reader's Digest. He also is noted as the author of a widely printed tribute to baseball, "The Game for All America."

His book, Tuned to Baseball, was a best seller and won national critical acclaim.

Tickets for Harwell's speaking engagement (along with music from the Huron River Men's Choir and refreshments) are only $5 for adults and $2 for students. You won't want to miss this great evening, as Ernie talks about the Tigers, his career in baseball, and his deep faith. Call 941-0736 for tickets or more information. □

TRAFFIC STOP

One-tenth of a Second

The front bumper and chrome "frosting" of the grillwork collapse.

Slivers of steel penetrate the tree to a depth of 1½ inches or more.

Two-tenths of a Second

The hood crumples as it rises up, smashing into the windshield. Spinning rear wheels leave the ground.

The fenders come into contact with the tree, forcing the rear parts out over the front doors.

The heavy structural members of the car begin to act as a brake on the terrific forward momentum of the 2½-ton car.

But the driver's body continues to move forward at the vehicle's original speed (at 20 times the normal force of gravity, his body weighs 3,200 pounds).

His legs, ramrod straight, snap at the knee joints.

Three-tenths of a Second

The driver's body is now off the seat, torso upright, broken knees pressing against the dashboard.

The plastic and steel frame of the steering wheel begins to bend under his terrible death grip.

His head is now near the sun visor, his chest above the steering column.

Four-tenths of a Second

The car's front 24 inches have been demolished, but the rear end is still travelling at an estimated speed of 35 mph.

The driver's body is still travelling 55 mph per hour.

The half-ton motor block crunches into the tree. The rear of the car, like a bucking horse, rises high enough to scrape bark off low branches.

Five-tenths of a Second

The driver's fear-frozen hands bend the steering column into an almost vertical position.

The force of gravity impales him on the steering shaft.

Jagged steel punctures lungs and intercostal arteries.

Blood spurts into his lungs.

Six-tenths of a Second

The driver's feet are ripped from his tightly laced shoes.

The brake pedal shears off at the floor boards.

The chassis bends in the middle, shearing body bolts.

The driver's head smashes into the windshield.

The rear of the car begins its downward fall, spinning wheels digging into the ground.

Seven-tenths of a Second

The entire, writhing body of the car is forced out of shape.

Hinges tear; doors spring open.

In one last convulsion, the seat rams forward, pinning the driver against the cruel steel of the steering shaft.

Blood leaps from his mouth; shock has frozen his heart.

He is now dead. Total time elapsed: seven-tenths of a second.

You deer hunters have a safe and successful trip. A very happy Thanksgiving to all of you.

If you have any questions regarding traffic laws, safety, etc., write to: Officer Rick Schwartz, c/o the Romulus Police Department, 11165 Olive Street, Romulus, Michigan 48174. Answers will appear in future issues of The Romulus News and The Wayne News. □

by Officer Rich Schwartz, Romulus Police Department

First, I need to make a correction to last issue's column. I incorrectly stated that the maximum speed for a school bus is 50 mph. Until August 15, 1990, that was the law. Well, thanks to the ladies who drive our school buses, I was informed that it is now 55 mph. I made a couple of calls to Lansing and confirmed their claim, and had the Secretary of State provide me with the temporary amendments for my motor vehicle code. One for the women.

I first saw this article a few years ago, and now I've come across a copy of it to share with you. Please read it carefully.

How Fast Can You Die in a Speeding Car?

In an effort to get motorists to slow down, the following facts are provided in answer to the above question. They describe a slow-motion, split-second reconstruction of what happens when a car, travelling 55 mph, crashes into a solid, immovable object (like a tree).

Fall Sports Wrap-ups

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Athletic Director

RHS Cross Country

This year's cross country team enjoyed a very successful season.

Leading the Eagle runners most of the way was sophomore Eric Newcomb, who recently claimed the Romulus High School "October Athlete of the Month" award, as well as being named to the All-Area cross country team.

Eric's goal is to break the existing School record (held by Anthony Thomas) of 17 minutes and 48 seconds for the 3.1-mile race, and Eric is currently only about 30 seconds off that record.

Eric sees his greatest accomplishment this year as his finish in the Detroit Free Press marathon.

"Coach Henry didn't think I would finish at all, let alone as high as I did," Eric stated. "It was great to run that far (26 miles), and I finished third in the 19-and-under group with a time of three hours, 19 minutes, and 48 seconds."

Eric received a nice medal and a beautiful silver plate for his third-place finish.

Joining Eric on this year's 6-7 team were Todd Bennett (a four-year letter winner), Dennis Tessin, Steve Miller, Erin Newland, Jason Roy, and Andy French, all of whom will be lost to graduation.

Returning next year will be Ricky Liberty, Jim Catron, Greg Majcher, Ryan Darnell, and Jon Harris. This group, combined with female athletes Tearza Johnson, Angie Hollis, and Erin Fife, should combine for an excellent season for Coach Dan Henry in 1991.

Congratulations on a great season, and good luck next year.

RHS Girls' Basketball

The varsity Eagles, led by seniors Susan Molenda and Kim Hopewell, took a five-game winning streak into Ann Arbor Pioneer's gym, hoping to turn that momentum into an upset victory of the fifth-ranked Pioneers. Although Rom-

A Beautiful, Bountiful Thanksgiving

thanks to Julie Wells for passing along the following information from Weight Watchers

Thanksgiving marks the beginning of the holiday season. It's a time for family, social gatherings, good cheer, and a lot of food! Yet, if you don't pay attention to what you eat these next few weeks, you can easily find yourself carrying a few extra pounds by the New Year.

"For weight-conscious individuals, Thanksgiving presents a particular challenge," said Florine Mark, area director of Weight Watchers. "It's the first test of willpower in a season filled with temptation. How well you handle it can affect your mind-set for the rest of the year."

With this in mind, Weight Watchers offers a traditional Thanksgiving menu from the Fast & Flexible Food Program that weight-conscious individuals can gobble up guilt-free! Enjoy roast turkey, mushroom-sage gravy, old-fashioned stuffing, creamed onions with peas, and fennel-grapefruit salad with pomegranate dressing, then top everything off with maple-pumpkin pie.

"Being careful about what you eat during the holiday season doesn't mean you have to feel different at the table," Mark added. "By planning ahead and making smart food choices, you can breeze through this holiday season and emerge even thinner for the New Year!"

Weight Watchers adds the following tips:

- Enlist your family's help for the cooking and/or cleaning up to help you avoid too much "taste-testing" and leftover nibbling.
- Don't sit down to a holiday meal "famished." Eat a light breakfast or lunch that day to allow for a little more at dinner. Remember not to skip meals — you'll be less likely to overeat if you're not overly hungry.
- Exercise portion control. Selectively choose what you'd like to eat. Sample a variety of what is served in small portions.
- Eat slowly and enjoy your meal. You will feel more satisfied by putting down your utensils between bites and joining in on the conversation.
- If you're spending the holiday at a friend's or family member's house, offer to bring a dish. Prepare something nonfattening that you enjoy so that you can munch freely.
- Make this holiday a chance to mingle. Spend time with old friends; chat with loved ones you seldom see. You'll be so busy enjoying yourself that the food will become secondary!

Mushroom-sage Gravy

1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon diet margarine
1 cup sliced mushroom caps
½ cup finely chopped onions
1 teaspoon minced fresh sage or ¼ teaspoon dried sage leaves
1 small garlic clove, minced
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
1 packet instant chicken broth/seasoning mix
2 cups skim or nonfat milk
1 tablespoon browning and seasoning sauce

In 4-cup saucepan, melt margarine. Add mushrooms, onions, sage, and garlic, and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until onions are soft. Sprinkle flour and broth mix over vegetables and stir quickly to combine; cook, stirring constantly, for 1 minute. Reduce heat to low; add milk and browning sauce to mushroom mixture and, stirring constantly, cook until mixture thickens.

makes 8 servings

Each serving provides: ¼ Vegetable Exchange; ¼ Fat Exchange; ¼ Milk Exchange; 5 Optional Calories

Old-fashioned Stuffing

4 tablespoons diet margarine, divided
2 cups chopped onions
½ pound apples, cored, pared, and chopped
½ cup each chopped celery and green pepper
1 small garlic clove, minced
¼ cup golden raisins, plumped
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
4 ounces seasoned croutons
¼ pound cooked turkey sausage, crumbled
12 small chestnuts, roasted, peeled, and chopped
½ cup thawed frozen egg substitute

In 9-inch nonstick skillet, melt 1 tablespoon margarine. Add onions, apples, celery, pepper, and garlic, and cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until celery is tender. Stir in raisins and poultry seasoning and set aside.

In medium mixing bowl, combine remaining ingredients. Add vegetable-fruit mixture and stir to combine. Stir in remaining margarine.

Preheat oven to 375°F. Spray 8-cup casserole dish with nonstick cooking spray; add stuffing mixture and bake until browned, about 30 minutes.

makes 8 servings

Each serving provides: ¾ Protein Exchange; 1 ¼ Bread Exchanges; ¾ Vegetable Exchange; ¾ Fat Exchange; ½ Fruit Exchange

Creamed Onions with Peas

4 cups frozen pearl onions
1 cup skim or nonfat milk, divided
2 teaspoons diet margarine
½ cup frozen tiny peas
2 teaspoons cornstarch
Dash each white pepper and ground nutmeg
Garnish: chopped fresh parsley

In 8-cup saucepan, combine onions, ½ cup skim milk, and the margarine. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until onions are heated through, about 10 minutes. Add peas and stir to combine.

Combine cornstarch with remaining milk. Pour into onion mixture, add pepper and nutmeg, and stir to combine; cook until mixture thickens, about 5 minutes.

To serve, transfer to serving bowl and garnish with parsley.

makes 4 servings

Each serving provides: ¼ Bread Exchange; 2 Vegetable Exchanges; ¼ Fat Exchange; ¼ Milk Exchange; 5 Optional Calories

Fennel-grapefruit Salad with Pomegranate Dressing

For an attractive presentation, combine pink and red grapefruit sections in this holiday salad.

1 large pomegranate, cut in half
2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon finely chopped shallot or onion
1 tablespoon olive oil
Dash each salt and pepper
4 cups lettuce, torn into pieces
1 cup sliced fennel (¼-inch slices)
1 medium pink or red grapefruit, peeled and sectioned

Over a small bowl, remove peel and membrane from one half of pomegranate. Separate seeds from membrane and set aside.

In small bowl, using a hand juicer, squeeze juice (scant ½ cup) from remaining half of the pomegranate. Add lemon juice, shallot, oil, salt, and pepper, and whisk to combine.

To serve, line serving platter with lettuce and decoratively arranged fennel slices and grapefruit sections. Top with dressing and sprinkle with pomegranate seeds.

makes 4 servings

Each serving provides: 2½ Vegetable Exchanges; ¾ Fat Exchange; 1 Fruit Exchange

Maple-pumpkin Pie

1 refrigerated ready-to-bake 9-inch pie crust
2 cups canned pumpkin
1 cup plain low-fat yogurt
½ cup thawed frozen egg substitute
¼ cup low-calorie pancake syrup
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
½ cup thawed frozen dairy whipped topping

Preheat oven to 400°F. Fit pie crust dough into 9-inch pie plate and press edges of dough up sides of plate; flute edges, removing excess dough. Set pie plate aside.

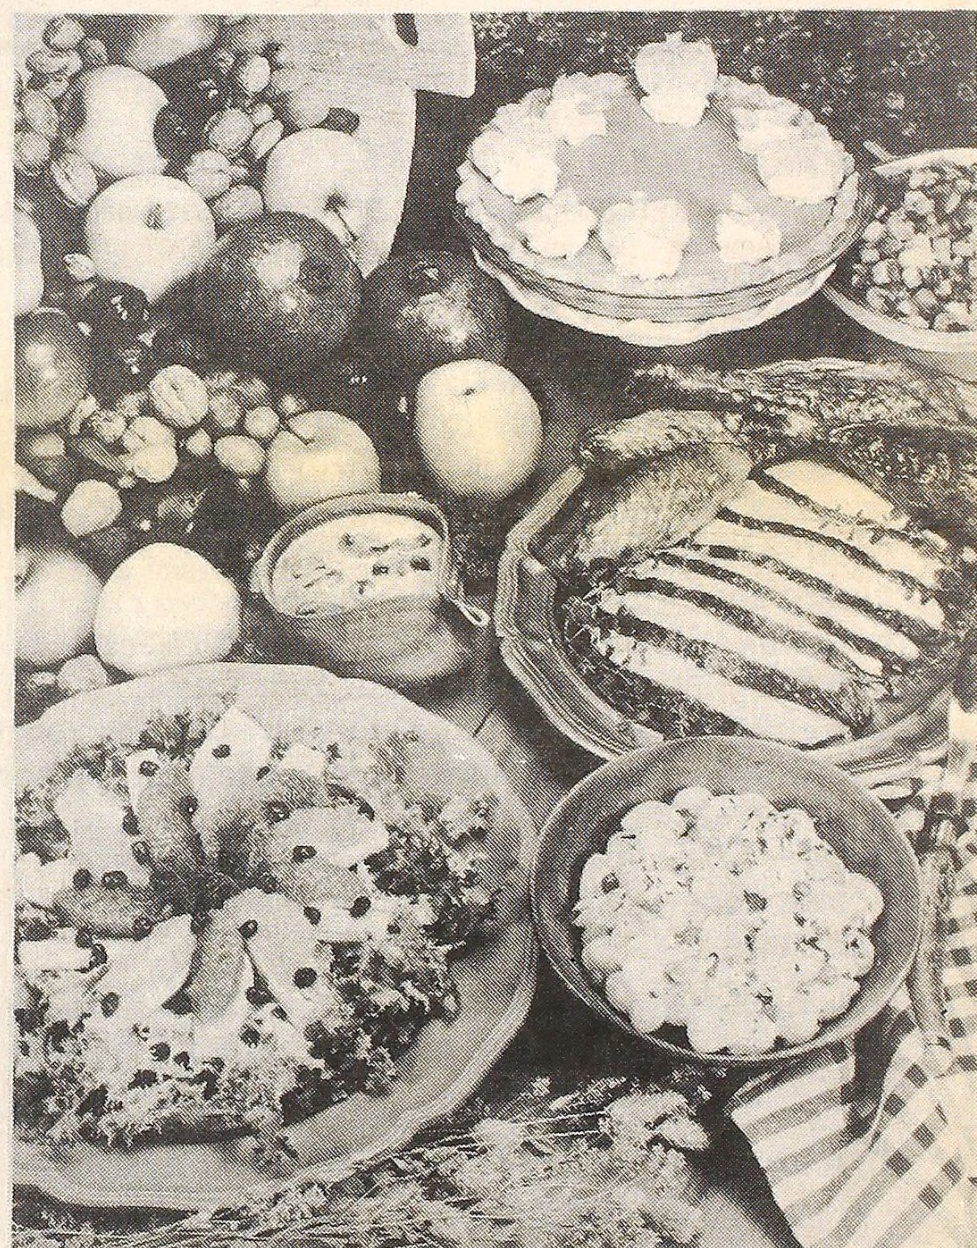

Form excess dough into a ball. Between 2 sheets of wax paper, roll dough, forming a 10-inch circle, about ¼-inch thick. Using a sharp knife or cookie cutter, cut out 8 cookies. Place cookies on nonstick cookie sheet and bake, in middle of center oven rack, for 4 to 5 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool.

While cookies are baking, prepare filling. In medium mixing bowl, combine pumpkin, yogurt, egg substitute, syrup, sugar, and pumpkin pie spice and stir until thoroughly blended. Spread pumpkin mixture evenly in pie crust and bake, in middle of center oven rack, for 35 to 40 minutes (until a knife, inserted in the center, comes out dry). Remove to wire rack to cool. Serve at room temperature or cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

To serve, top each portion with an equal amount of whipped topping and 1 cookie.

makes 8 servings

Each serving provides: ¼ Protein Exchange; ½ Bread Exchange; ½ Vegetable Exchange; ¼ Milk Exchange; 90 Optional Calories

Happy Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING

by Bob Sheldon

Thanksgiving time is here again when friends and family meet
And gather around our tables full of wondrous things to eat.
We fill ourselves to overflow,
then vow with remorse and pain,
"I'll never eat like this no more,
till Thanksgiving comes again."

Sassy Seniors

by Mary E. Clark

Special thanks are due to Marilyn Masters, Senior Citizens Coordinator for the City of Romulus; Barbara Schultz, Senior Center staff member; Sheila Hicks, Manager of the Romulus Towers; and Mary Butz, Senior Citizens Coordinator for Huron Township, for contributing information to this issue's "Sassy Seniors" column.

News from the Romulus Senior Center

Food Gathering — Again this year, the Romulus Senior Center will be providing a basket of food for a needy Romulus senior. In keeping with this tradition of sharing, a box will be placed at the Center for food donations. If you would prefer to donate money instead, please give it to Marilyn Masters or anyone on the Senior Center's staff.

Boar's Head Festival — The Romulus Senior Center has received an invitation to attend Grosse Ile's Boar's Head Festival at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 13, as guests of the Festival Committee. The Festival, a Christmas celebration with music and pageantry, appears to be an American custom of English origin. Spectators will enjoy a riot of sound and color — a brass ensemble, band bells, bagpipes, recorders, an organ, a harpsichord, singers, dancers, tumblers, magicians, a jester, and more, as well as a presentation of the Christmas story.

Reservations and payment of the $2 transportation fee will be accepted until November 19. There will be a stop for dinner (at your own expense) before the pageant.

Frankenmuth Special — Seniors Unlimited, Inc., loves the business of Romulus seniors so much that it is offering a motorcoach-only trip to Frankenmuth on Wednesday, December 5, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., for only $10. The trip is limited to the first 42 people who sign up at the Center. Payment is due upon registration.

Potluck Dinner — Join your friends for a Thanksgiving Potluck Dinner on Tuesday, November 20, at 5 p.m. at the Center. The turkey and dressing will be provided.

Legal Aid — Seniors can get their legal questions answered on November 28, when Legal Aid visits the Center between 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Seniors will be seen in the order that they sign in.

1991 Tours — Those who like to travel can look forward to the following tours in 1991: Blennerhassett (February 14-16), Frankenmuth (March 22), Roaring Twenties (April 4), St. Louis (sometime in June), Traverse City Cherry Festival (sometime in July), Geritol Follies (September 25), Sauder Farms (sometime in October), and Gleaming Beaming Wheeling (sometime in November). Watch future issues of "the little paper" for further details.

News from the Romulus Towers

Congratulations! — The Romulus Towers Bazaar, held last Friday and Saturday (November 9 and 10), was a huge success! The beautiful craft items and baked goods sold like wildfire.

One of the bazaar's highlights was the raffle of a lovely afghan made by Frances Fry. The lucky winner? Viola Tonkiewicz.

Happy Birthday — I would like to send my best wishes for a wonderful November birthday to the following people at the Towers: Mabel Atkinson, Bryan Bailey, Nellie Barton, Barbara Clawson, Pat Etler, Maxine Goachee, Suzanne Hale, Sheila Hicks, Edith Millward, Lula Newsom, Irene Nowakowski, Blanche Perrego, Florida Philpot, Edwin Westbay, Shirley Wilson, and Nellie Zwalesky.

Birthday/Thanksgiving Potluck Dinner — Towers residents can join their neighbors for a real Thanksgiving feast and November birthday celebration on Thursday, November 15. Wingate Management will furnish the turkey and residents will provide lots of delicious trimmings. It's going to be a wonderful celebration, so be sure to join in!

Commodity Distribution — Those Towers residents who receive commodities may pick them up from the move-in room on Thursday, November 29, between 10 a.m. and 12 p.m.

News from the Huron Senior Center

Terrific Trips — All seniors (age 55 and older) are welcome to sign up for the following trips, regardless of their place of residence (quoted prices are based on rates for double occupancy): Ragtime Fun in Boggstown (February 26-27; $99; includes one night at the Boggstown Inn with music from the early 1900s, a tour of a candy factory, admission to the Indianapolis Speedway and the Raggedy Ann 75th Anniversary Exhibit, and much more) and Palm Springs/Los Angeles/Catalina Island (seven-day tour begins March 1; $899; includes round-trip airfare, eight meals, an LA/Hollywood tour, an NBC Television Studio tour, a ferryboat cruise to Catalina Island, a glass-bottom boat ride, and much more). For further details, please call Mary Butz (782-5190) or Helen Rinne (753-9086).

Hot Lunch Program — Huron seniors can get a hot lunch at the Center five days a week at 11:45 a.m. (You must call 24 hours in advance.)

Pinochle — All seniors are welcome to come to the Center on the first, third, and fourth Monday of each month at 1 p.m. for pinochle, prizes, and refreshments. Don't sit home on these cold winter days! Join new friends at the Center and have a good time! □

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS WRAP-UP

ulus played maybe its best game of the season, Ann Arbor proved to be too well balanced for the smaller Eagles and walked off with the victory, 58-46.

Susan Molenda led the Eagles with 18 points, while Jennifer Daniel contributed 12 points in this tough battle. Junior Carmita Brown took over control of the offense and her passing led to the easy baskets for Jennifer and Sue.

This kind of team effort will be needed if Romulus is to emerge victorious from the State Girls Districts, which Romulus is hosting this year. The first game was played between Romulus and Taylor Kennedy at 7 p.m. on Monday, November 12. A win for the Eagles (the game's results were not available at the time of this writing) would send them against Taylor Truman on Wednesday, November 14, at 7 p.m., which could lead Romulus to Friday evening's finals at 7 p.m. All tickets for the State Tournament are $3; no passes are accepted.

The warm-up game for the Districts was with the Braves of Ypsilanti. This game featured the sendoff of six seniors, whose combined talent has led the Lady Eagles to 33 victories over the last three seasons.

Their 60-37 win over Ypsilanti made the Lady Eagles 13-7 for the 1990-91 season (the team is third in the League with a 4-4 record), and was sparked by the play of seniors Susan Molenda (20 points, 13 rebounds) and Kim Hopewell (16 points, 6 assists). Also showing her best talents in the victory was junior Carmita Brown, who had 18 points, 11 rebounds, and seven assists.

Coach Tim Cullen assessed the victory by saying, "Our girls are playing as a team right now, better than we have all season. Ypsilanti had better talent tonight than we did, but we worked harder and played together as a group, and that was the difference."

The 1990-91 team had an excellent season, led by six members of the Class of '91 who will be missed as athletes and leaders within the total school programs.

Good luck, seniors, and good luck to the Eagles on their quest for the District Championship.

RHS Varsity Football

The Eagles took on cross-town rival Belleville on Friday, October 26, in their attempt to capture a win before the end of the season.

The final score was 34-0, with Belleville claiming the victory, and what appeared to be a very dismal 0-9 season for the Eagles and their coaches finally came to an end.

"There aren't many 0-9 teams who feel good at the end of the season," remarked Coach Dan Henry, "but I'll tell you this: our kids played hard all season. Our seniors gave us everything we could ask from them. Eben Smith had a great season. Guam did super until his injury. Joe Adkinson, Steve Hockett, and Octavius Miles played hard against huge people and usually had to go both ways for us. Rich Evans had a great year for a first-year player, and D.J. Jamerson was outstanding for us."

Those seniors are going to see their efforts this year pay off in the next two seasons, as their leadership through this very tough season is going to carry over to the young players who battled with them all season.

"We may have actually turned a big corner this year," concluded Henry. "On Thursday, we had two power racks of weights delivered to the High School, and when we got back to the school on Friday evening, we took the underclassmen up to the weight room and told them that this is where next season will be determined. They wanted to start lifting right then. That should tell something about this group of athletes. They were 0-9 and didn't even want to go home."

The Class of '91 was just that: a group of young men with a bunch of

"class." With very few exceptions, the staff and administrators agree that this group of seniors may be the best ever to graduate from RHS. The courage and determination shown by this group against very difficult odds showed why people feel, and probably rightly so, that the Class of '91 is going to be very difficult to replace, both in athletics and in the leadership of Romulus High School.

RHS JV Football

First-year coaches Jim Zoltowski, Brian Tapp, and Dave Blair finished their initial campaign with an excellent 20-0 victory over Belleville. This win lifted the junior Eagles to a very respectable 2-5-1 record this year.

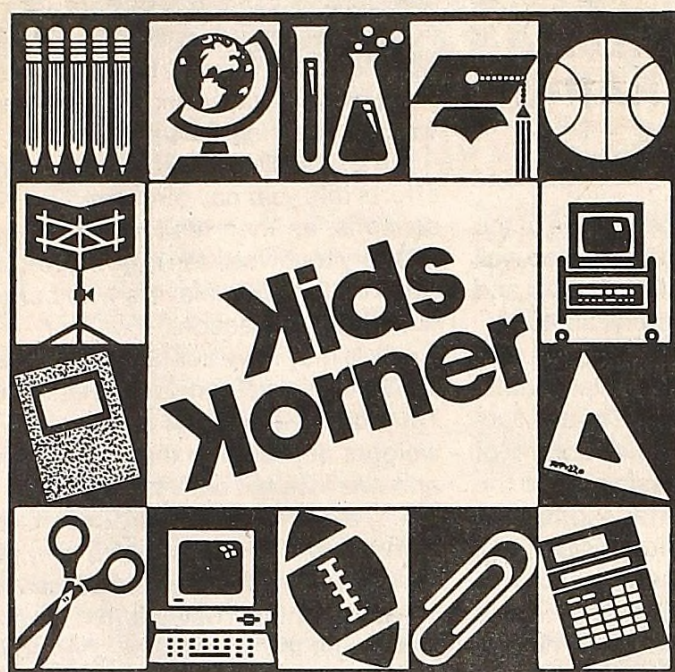

This season's team lost a number of freshmen and sophomores to the varsity that would normally have played with this bunch. Their loss caused a number of players to play both on offense and defense, thus leading to fatigue in some games.

Leading the Eagles in their victory over Belleville were sophomores Chris Evans and Mario Johnson. Chris had two receptions, one interception, and an excellent 56-yard punt that eventually helped lead to the Eagles' first touchdown.

Mario Johnson piled up yardage on offense from his tailback position, but also blocked two punts, one of which was scooped up by Ron Yount and carried 37 yards for a touchdown.

Chris, Mario, Todd Hardrick, Joel Elam, Phillip Franklin, Felton Bush, Joe Kusibab, Scott Shupp, Ron Yount, and many others are names that you will hear combined with those of our young players on this year's varsity to make a solid program in the near future. □

Olympic trivia

• America is by far the most successful Olympic nation. Between 1896, when the first modern Olympiad was held in Athens, and 1984, the USA amassed 1,687 medals—710 gold, 529 silver and 448 bronze.

• Russia is the runner-up in the all-time medal list with a total of 885 medals. Britain is third with 577 medals—168 gold, 212 silver and 197 bronze.

• Six countries have gone through all the modern Olympiads winning just one bronze medal each. They are Zambia, Niger, Iraq, Guyana, Dominican Republic and Bermuda.

• The first modern Olympic champion was American James Connolly, who won the hop, step and jump (now called the triple jump) in Athens in 1896. Connolly also won medals in the high jump and long jump.

• In the first Olympics, the winners received silver medals and a crown of olive leaves. The runners-up were given bronze medals and a laurel leaf crown. The third placed competitors went away empty-handed.

• The most successful Olympic competitor was Ray Ewry of the United States, who won 10 gold medals in the standing jump between 1900 and 1908. In the 1900 Olympics, he won three gold medals on the same day. And all this was despite having had polio as a child.

• Paavo Nurmi of Finland won more medals than any other athlete. Between 1920 and 1928 he picked up nine golds and three silvers running in seven different events. Five of his gold medals were won in the Paris games of 1924 when he achieved the remarkable feat of winning the 1,500 meters and the 5,000 meters in less than two hours on the same day.

• Women athletes were first allowed to compete in 1928 at Amsterdam. The first gold medallist was Halina Konopacka in the discus.

• American discus thrower Al Oerter won gold medals in four successive Olympics, 1956, 1960, 1964 and 1968.

• Sex testing was introduced in 1968. This was more than 30 years too late to prevent Dora Raben of Germany placing fourth in the women's high jump, only to be later found to be a man posing as a woman.

• Johnny Weismuller achieved considerable fame and fortune in Hollywood starring in a string of Tarzan films. But he had earlier also been a most successful Olympian, winning five swimming gold medals between 1924-28.

• Olympic soccer matches have thrown up several uneven contests over the years. In 1908 Denmark beat France 17-1 with the Danish center forward, Sophus Nielsen, grabbing 10 of the goals. Four years later, Germany's Gottfried Fuchs also netted 10 in his country's 16-0 victory over the Russians.

We will check the plan and see if all the points are included. We'll also help put the plan in writing. You must then follow the plan, but you can arrange for changes if they are needed.

An important point you should keep in mind is that even if you don't need a plan now, you may need one later if your earnings rise so that you can maintain your eligibility or increase your payment amount.

If you want more information about setting up a plan for you or someone you know, call Social Security. The number is 1-800-2345-SSA (1-800-234-5772). Benefits for Disabled People Who Return to Work, a free leaflet that describes the various work incentives, is available from any Social Security office. □

The Social Security Administration encourages blind and disabled people receiving benefits to try to work despite their impairments. If you are such a person, this information may be helpful. There are a number of work incentives to help you become self-supporting.

This column describes one of the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) work incentives. It's a plan that could help you become self-supporting.

Under this plan, you can set aside some of your income and some of your resources over a period of time to pay expenses such as vocational training, education, buying work-related equipment, or starting a business.

The income and resources you set aside don't count in deciding your eligibility or payment amount. This means that you may be eligible for SSI if you have one of these plans even though you would not be under the regular rules.

A vocational counselor, social worker, or a Social Security representative are some of the people who can help you set up a plan. The plan has to have a realistic work goal, a specific savings or spending plan, and a good estimate of how long it will take you to meet your goal. The plan also needs a clear method for accounting for the funds you set aside.
